New Skirt For 1866.

The Great Invention of the Age in

HOOP SKIRTS.

J. W. BRADLEY'S New Patent DUPLEX ELLIPTIC (or double) SPRING SKIRT.

THIS INVENTION consists of DUPLEX (or two) ELLIPTIC PURE REFINED STEEL SPRINGS, ingeniously braided tightly and firmly together, edge to edge, making the toughest, most flexible, elastic and durable SPRING ever used. They seldom bend or break, like the Single Spring, and consequently preserve their perfect and beautiful Shape more than twice as long as any single spring skirt that ever has or can be made.

The wonderful flexibility and great comfort experienced particularly in all crowded Assemblies, Operas, Carriages, Railroad Cars, Church Pews, Arm Chairs, for Promonade and House Dress, as the Skirt can be folded when in use to occupy a small place as easily and conveniently as a Silk or Muslin Dress.

A Lady having Enjoyed the Pleasure, Comfort and Great convenience of wearing the Duplex Elliptic Steel Spring Skirt for a single day wil never afterwards willingly dispense with their use. For Children, Misses and Young Ladies they are superior to all others.

The Hoops are covered with 2-ply double twisted thread and will wear twice as long as the single yarn covering which is used on all Single Hoop Skirts. The three bottom rods on every Skirt are also Double Steel, and twice or double covered to prevent the covering from wearing off the rods when dragging down stairs, stone steps etc, etc, which they are constantly subject to when in use.

All are made of the new and elegant Corded Tapes, and are the best quality in every part, giving to the wearer the most graceful and perfect Shape possible, and are unquestionably the lightest, most desirable, comfortable and economical Skirt ever made.

WEST BRADLEY & CARY, PROPRIETORS of the Invention, and SOLE MANUFACTURERS, 97 CHAMBERS, 79 & 81 READE STREETS New York.

For sale in all first-class stores in this City, and throughout the United States and Canada, Havana de Cuba, Mexico, South America and the West Indies.

AGENTS WANTED.

We wish to establish agents in all the counties of this State as well as in all the principal towns and cities both North and South, for the purpose of procuring subscribers to the Daily and Weekly Banner—also, to obtain advertisements.

The Daily Banner has the largest circulation of any paper in Western N. C., and as an advertising medium, it is the best that could be desired.

THE BENEFIT OF MAGNANIMITY.

The Government can afford to be generous as well as just. Life is a poor boon without liberty. The present situation is becoming more galling every day to the South. That the South committed, at least, a great blunder in attempting separation, it must be conceded, but when the whole affair is calmly and dispassionately viewed in all its colossal proportions, we think, great allowance ought to be made, by the North. We knew that the experiment would cost blood—we knew it would cost treasure—we knew that success could only be obtained by almost superhuman exertions and almost incredible sacrifices. We knew that we had a dark and difficult road to travel, beset with dangers on all sides. It may have been caused immediately by scheming political intriguants, but it had been often predicted—a long time expected, and the public mind had, to some extent, been educated, if not to regard separation as a political good, at least, as a necessary evil—A strong and bitter feeling of antipathy towards the North had been engendered at the South, and when the Republican party gained the ascendancy in the election of Mr. Lincoln, elected as it was understood and believed here, by a sectional party, the people at the South or at least the more intelligent portion, conceived one of their guarantied rights under the Constitution to be jeopardized, and while a large majority preferred even then to give this new party a fair trial in the Union, yet their feelings of dislike and repugnance, so far from abating, increased up to the very hour of separation. They were in a state impressible to emotional passion, and when South Carolina and other States burst the time honored bonds, the public mind in this State could no longer resist what they considered to be a chivalrous duty, and with an apparent unanimity, covering, as it were, the old deep-laid love for the Union, North Carolina joined her fortunes with her Southern sister States. It was not the dictate of reason and prudence, but the irrepressible promptings of passion.—The Southern people felt the full responsibility, however, of the momentous and solemn steps; for they pledged each to the other, in the fulfilment of their political declarations and acts, their lives, fortunes, and sacred honor.

Greek met Greek and fatal indeed was the rencounter. Mowed down as grass before the scythe, they only rushed again and again to the bloody arena with seemingly renewed appetite. It was not long before every household had given a native offering of some dear beloved one, upon the altar of their country. The country ran red with blood; pillage and plunder came on in due season and the ghastly sublimity of the scene was painfully illuminated in the brilliant light of burning homesteads.

Such are said to be the necessary consequences of War, but in our case a deeper poignance thrilled the heart and awakened the tenderest sympathy of every patriot, in witnessing the necessary suffering of many at home. With a population treble ours; with the whole outside world from which to recruit their serried and decimated ranks, and to add to and improve the materiel of War; with the prestige of a name feared and honored in every land; with our ports closed to us, it is not so much a wonder that we failed, as it is, that we were not crushed to atoms long before the year 1865. From various causes, needless to recapitulate, the North succeeded and we failed in the contest—Now, why did the North make war, and for what end did they make such tremendous exertions to "crush the rebellion."—Cui bono? Was it to ruin, impoverish, humiliate, and degrade us—us, whom they still regarded as their fellow citizens and who at least were descendants of the same sires and co-inheriters in the glorious appellation of Americans?

Was it in the hate or a noble sense of duty that induced the Northman to leave all behind that nerved his arm and steeled his heart for the deadly conflict? We are frank to say, that we do not think that all, or any, of these sentiments actuated him to any considerable extent.

Butler, whose hell-born schemes of cowardly and brutal revenge and men of his ilk, are the exception—the very rare exceptions, and prove thereby the rule, otherwise. We believe that as a class the Northern people fought this War because they believed that they would thereby give the lie to the idea of the insecurity of Republics and would likewise perpetuate the blessings of Free Government to posterity for all time to come. In the course of the conflict, in order to secure the grand aim they had in view, to crush effectually the insurrection as speedily as possible, they deemed it right to adopt the severest measure of warfare known to civilized nations. In order likewise to weaken us by creating a distrust, and to destroy the root of the matter, they emancipated our slaves. The North has gained at least the great point for which she started out—the suppression of the attempted separation, by force of arms; it has gained even more and indeed that which they profess (and we believe them) not to have fought for originally, the manumission of the slaves. Now, suppose we were wrong, and altogether in fault, in this matter, yet ought not the Northman to consider that we thought that we were right. If he should feel bitterly because we have slain many of his household, let him but turn and look into ours; if he has suffered in fortune are we not bankrupt; if one Northern city has been burnt, what is the South but little better than a howling wilderness? Both have suffered as never peoples did before; it may be that some great good may come of it, and we believe that under proper auspices, such a result might be obtained. But, the accomplishment of this, depends upon them, not us; we are powerless for good or evil.

What great good can come of it, it may be asked? The War has developed the military genius of the country and has shown us to be as terrible in War as we are successful in the sublime arts of peace. As a united peoples, we can defy the whole World in arms. The strength of a Republic lies in the consent of the people—entente cordiale. Then, in the name of charity, in the name of all that's good, let us with "charity towards all and malice toward none" turn to with a charity and sincere good will, to bind the still bleeding and gaping wounds of our country. Give us cause, from this time forth, to call it, aye, proudly, our country, and not the "Yankee Government."—Give us a little elbow-room and a chance to show you that we have a nobility of heart and a sincerity of purpose, which is not surpassed by our bravery in battle.

If you expect repentance, contrition, and a sudden love for that which we have not loved for so long, you will be mistaken.

If you expect us, "kneeling, ungirt and uncovered to put up our hands and declare ourselves from this day forth your man for life and limb and earthly honor," you will be mistaken. We have lost everything but honor and that neither confiscation nor death itself can take from us.

We have yielded every point, fairly raised, by the adverse fate of War; we have respected our acts of seperation; we have refused to assume debts contracted in aid of the War; we have emancipated our slaves; we have even obeyed stern military orders; we are ready to ratify the Constitutional Amendment: do not ask us in addition to all these legitimate accessions to the will of the conqueror, to do things we cannot do, with a due regard to our (it may be) squeamish notions of honor and the fitness of things.

At least, do not ask us to do that you yourselves have persistently refused to do. "The galled jade winces."

And in view of the pregnant omens of a foreign War, it is of the utmost moment, that there should be but one voice in the land, and that voice should sing in grand chorus, a hymn to the success of our re-united, common country. Let there be no pretext for joining the other side, but so treat our people that he who aids the enemy, must in doing so, add perjury to his treason.

The Daily Gazette.—The Salisbury Daily Gazette made its appearance, yesterday morning agreeably to previous arrangement. It presents a very neat appearance. We make the following extract from the salutory:

It (the Gazette) will give to the administration of President Johnson a frank and honest support, and it will advocate the measures which we think are best calculated to reconstruct the government. But while we strive to improve the future we shall also forget the animosities of the past, and will endeavor to discharge our duty to our city, State and country with as loyal hearts as we had when we followed the plume of Lee for so many weary, horrid years. We believe that duty allows but one path to follow, and we shall strictly follow in that path. We shall rigidly exclude from our columns anything that could give offense, and we shall always be solicitous to honor, truth and virtue wherever found. Our political course will be developed as we go along.

A LETTER FROM WASHINGTON.

We are permitted to make the subjoined extract from a letter written by a Government official, high in position at Washington, to a Federal officer stationed at this place. Our condition, as a people overwhelmed and defeated in a great struggle, we fully understand and appreciate; but it will be seen that this officer predicts that the test oath will not be repealed, and that no members elect to Congress will be admitted to seats except such as can take it. This is a result we have feared and against which we have warned the people, but it remains for the future to disclose whether they or we were right. Here is the extract:

* * * * * *

"I am glad you have found one rebel General who you believe is exerting the right kind of influence in behalf of the Union. I doubt whether they are often to be found, generally they are for the Union with a "but" to it, provided they can dictate terms; they must learn to know that their dictation for the present is at an end, and must submit to our terms. To be plain, they commenced the war, and we whipped them until they were compelled to surrender, and they must now submit to our terms without reserve. This, in most cases, they are not willing to do, although they generally admit that slavery is abolished, or will be every where, yet they will insist in electing men to Congress and other offices, who cannot take the required oath, men who claim that they have rights to protect, when they have none whatever, they are a conquered people, and it is our province to dictate to them the course of policy they must pursue, this is the plain english of the matter, and the quicker they submit and comply with what the Government may require, the quicker they will be restored to the government of their own affairs, let them submit gracefully, and the Government will be liberal, but they must come to our terms. They want the test oath, as they call it, repealed, but that you may be assured, will not be done for years to come. I do not believe a single member of Congress from the Southern secession States will be admitted to the present Congress, though a small number of them may be, but they must take the oath or stand aside. It will not do to permit men who have been for the last four years, exerting all their powers to destroy this Government, to now come forward and dictate the terms, on which they may return to their allegiance."

GENERAL NEWS.

Washington, Nov. 24. The Confederate ram Stonewall arrived this morning.

The President has revoked the proclamation of rewards offered for the arrest of Jacob Thompson, Beverly Tucker, Saunders, Cleary and Surrat. The claims for the reward offered for the apprehension of Booth, and others associated with him, are to be determined by a special commission.

It is stated that Judge Magrath and Mr. Seddon have been released on parole.

The President has directed that no letters patent be granted to any person residing in recent insurrectionary districts without satisfactory proof of loyalty is furnished.

Washington, Nov. 24. New Orleans and Mexican advices state that the Liberal army is encamped nine miles from Matamoras, and are confident of the speedy capture of that place and Bagdad. Highly important communications have passed between the commander of the Imperial fleet and the Liberal commander at Brownsville. Gen. Mejia issued an order prohibiting persons from crossing from the American side to Matamoras, or vice versa.

Jackson, Miss., Nov. 24. Gov. Humphreys' message to the Legislature recommends that negro testimony be admitted in the courts, and the passage of laws to encourage freedmen to support their families and educate their children. He thinks that the passage of these measures will secure the withdrawal of the troops.

New Orleans, Nov. 24. The Legislature of this State met and organized yesterday. No business was done.

The Liberals are reported in force eight miles from Matamoras.

Washington, Nov. 25. A Louisville dispatch states that frauds have been discovered in the Quartermaster's department amounting to $100,000.

From Mobile we learn that Gen. Thomas had arrived. His mission relates partly to mail matters connected with his department. It has no reference to State government affairs.

Intilligence from Mississippi reports a healthy condition of affairs—provision plentiful, and negroes well disposed and returning to their former homes.

Washington, Nov. 22d. Dr. Powell, the State Agent of North Carolina will leave the city tomorrow for Raleigh. He takes with him important communications from Mr. Seward to Gov. Holden.

Ex Speaker Colfax's late speech here does not meet the President's approval. The latter remains firm in his own policy, and will not remove a solitary feature of it as heretofore announced.

The most of the pardon business has been suspended for the present, by direction of the President. This step has been rendered necessary by the near approach of the session of Congress, and consequent pressing demands of public affairs which cannot be postponed.

Lieut. Gen. Scott is soon to sail from N. York to spend the winter in New Orleans.

GOVERNMENT SALE.

According to previous notice the large sale of Government property came off here yesterday, under the immediate supervision of Capt. Day. Notwithstanding there was a goodly number of the country people in attendance, owing to the great scarcity of money, we are informed, property sold rather low.

The sale will be continned to-day.

The Norfolk Virginian..—We have received the first No. of this well printed and ably edited Daily, and at once place it on our exchange list. The Virginian is a large paper of 24 columns, and printed by Messrs. G. A. Sykes & Co., at $8 per annum: $5 for six months.

Something New.

We call attention to the advertisement of the Duplex Elliptic or double Spring Skirt. Though a recent invention, it has become very popular, and is rapidly obtaining the preference over other kinds in use. The rods in it are composed each of two delicate and well-tempered steel springs, which are ingeniously braided together edge to edge, the lower rods heavier, and having a double covering. This peculiarity of construction makes this skirt very strong and durable, and also so exceedingly flexible that it rapidly adapts itself to the form of the wearer, and allows of any amount of daubling and crushing without injury to its shape. These skirts are unquestionably the lightest, most desirable, comfortable and economical ever made. These are advantages which ladies, who have experienced the discomfort and inconvenience of single springs, will duly appreciate.

The following letter has been handed us by an officer of the Freedmen's Bureau, for publication. We believe the views are sound, and that much good might be effected were they carried into practice:

Mr. Editor—Sir: I would respectfully request that you do me the favor to publish a few words upon the subject of Colonization. Northern men have been frequently charged by the Southern people, as having a desire to amalgamate the races. As a Northern man I repudiate this charge—and state that it is the desire of the Northern people to seperats the races, and to accomplish this end, and to aid in the final emigration of the Negro to Africa. We desire to furnish the colored people with free schools and a bountiful supply of churches. By these means, with the help of God, we hope to remove the darkness that now overshadows their brain, and open up for them a bright futu e in the extensive and unrecovered domain of Africa—a vast field of undeveloped resources—apparently reserved by the Almighty for this despised and down-trodden people.

I do not think we can reasonably expect the negro to emigate with any degree of rapidity, until he sees and understands for himself. To accomplish this I believe it to be our duty—also a protection to ourselves—to lend a helping hand in every way possible. By doing this, we will rapidly remove the difficulties that surround the Negro question, and place the African in a position to enable him to support himself and family, and relieve ourselves of a heavy tax levied to maintain jails and poor-houses.

This, according to my view, is the best colonization society that we can originate—the operations of which will cause the marriage contract to be respected and prevent in a great measure the crossing of the races, and will terminate in the rapid emigration of the African to his native land.

Very Respectfully,
your ob't servant,
G. W. WELLS.

MODEL SEWING MACHINE.

(From the New York Herald)

Prominent among the mechanical triumphs of this most ingenious age, common honesty compels us to notice the Empire Sewing Machine, commended as justly styled perfection itself. Useful as have been the various sewing machines, from time to time presented to the public, each one of them has been cursed with some radical defect, which detracts from general utility. Warned by the experience of his predecessors, the inventor of the Empire Machine has produced an instrument, combining all the advantages for which others are vaunted, and obviating every defect which can be attributed to them by the most fastidious critic.

The Empire Machine is a marvellous combination of simplicity, economy and perfect workmanship, being durable, free from liability to get out of order, noiseless, and easy of operation. its mechanical contrivance is such as to secure stability, freedom from accident, and accuracy as to workmanship. By the use of the patented shuttle and straight needle, it makes a stitch, which can neither rip nor ravel, at the same time, it can operate perfectly upon every species of material from leather to cambric, with threads of cotton, linen or silk, from the finest to the coarsest number.

As the Empire Machine is gradually supplanting its more antique rivals, no one in want of a useful instrument of this description, be he or she tailor, coachmaker, dressmaker or seamstress, can do otherwise than secure one of these economical and inimitable machines, suited alike for family and manufacturing purposes. The office of the Empire Manufacturing Co. is at No. 536 Broadway, New York City, where they are now supplying these Empire Machines a prices far below the real value of the instrument.—New York Herald.

To the People of the South!

THE OLD

"EXAMINER" REVIVED!!

The undersigned, having purchased its good will and subscription books, propo ses to revive, at an early day, the old Richmond Examiner, of which the late John M. Daniel was editor-in-chief, and the undersigned his constant associate for the entire period of the war.

It is believed that the public will recognize an appropriate and practical idea in this enterprise.—Efforts to revive other papers in the South are announced, and it is certainly neither a visionary nor unworthy endeavour for the literary associates of a gallant spirit that now sleeps in thegrave to essay honour to his memory and a service to the public by reviving the old Examiner newspaper, so long the ornament of Southern letters, an example at once of the scholarship and chivalry of Virginia; and perhaps the only school in the South of pure and classick English distinct from the models and redeemed from the innovations of Northern instruc tors.

The fame of the old Richmond Examiner reached to the most distant parts of the world. The paper was well known in Europe. It was pronounced by a distinguished Northern politician "the best exponent of the civilization of the South." It was a school of literary scholarship for the youth of the South; the glass of Southern chivalry; an example of independence, of courage, of iron spirit in newspaper literature, which its chief il lustrated in his own noble and severe life, and defended more than once on the field of honor, when the undersigned stood with in the vindication of the freedom of the press.

Surely there are many people in the South who will unite in an effort to revive a newspaper which was an ornament to its literature and a school for its virtues. The task is an ambitious one. But the undersigned attempts it in no mean or flagging spirit. He has already undertaken to marshal a corps of the old writers for the Examiner; he will be able to reproduce its typographical features, and present to Southern readers a fac simile of their old acquaintance; and he fervently trusts and resolutely pledges every resource of intellect and will to breathe again in this form of material resurrection the same spirit of fearless criticism, chivalrous contest and unhesitating encounter with abuse that animated it of old.

The undersigned owns some pledges of affection in this enterprise. His relations with the late John M. Daniel was close, intimate and affectionate to the day of his death. And it will indeed be a labor and aspiration of love if he can produce some echo from the grave of lamented friendship and rekindle from the ashes of the past and the dead some of the fire that illuminated the familiar pages of our literature.

In the present uncertainty of political questions—the dissappointment of old issues and the imperfect development of the new—it would, of course, be impossible to state with precision the political career of the Examiner. But this may be said with safety; that it will use all its influence in restoring order, tranquility and prosperity to the people; and while aspiring to be brave and independent, it will avoid every scheme of faction and disorganization, devote itself to the works of conservatism, and sustain, at every risk, the present President of the United States as long as he fulfills those noble indications he has already given of planting again the rights of constutional liberty in the South, setting his face against the Malignants of the North, and thus entitling himself to such common support of conservative men in all parts of the country as will secure the continuation of his wise and patriotic administration.

No pains or expense will be spared to make the Examiner the newspaper of the South. For every department of it the services of the most accomplished and active writers will be secured. Special correspondents will be posted in New York and Washington and other important centres of intelligence in the country. A former active editor of the old Examiner, Edward A. Pollard, will be employed as correspondent from Europe, in which country he proposes to write a History of the War, and to form a familiar acquaintance with the politics of Europe, especially in connection with American questions and topicks. This correspondence will constitute a special feature of interest in our paper; it will enliven its columns from week to week with the productions of an animated pen; and it will afford our readers a singularly good opportunity to make themselves acquainted with cotemporary Europe, and to apprehend the growing interest of our foreign relations.

The undersigned was recently the editor of the Richmond Times, but in consequence of a disagreement with the part proprietor of that paper, he has been forced to leave it and appeal to the civil courts for his rights; and he now proposes to himself the nobler task of reviving a paper endeared to the South by many memories of the past, and associated with so much that is admirable in its heroick and literary name in history. He calls upon the old subscribers of the Examiner, from Virginia to Texas, to rally to its support, to renew their subscriptions, and to assist in the revival of a paper which has existed for three-quarters of a century, and which has ever been solicitous to honor truth and virtue, prompt to chastise abuses, and ambitious to defend and adorn the civilization and literature of the South.

Advertisements will be inserted on the same terms as published by the other Richmond papers.

The first number of the Examiner will contain a sketch of the life of the late John M. Daniel, whose name is historical in connection with the Virginia press, and than whom the annals of newspaper literature in America show few more extraordinary men—certainly no greater master of vigor and satire in composition. The first numbers will also contain a full and complete account of the evacuation of Richmond, with all the particulars of the surrender of the city, the entry of the troops, the great conflagration, &c., taken from the advance sheets of E. A. Polard's "Fourth Year of the War," now in press. This account will be found intensely interesting; and aside from this consideration, every one should secure and preserve these numbers, as they will be valuable hereafter as affording a true and faithful report of what the South has had hitherto but the imperfect narratives which have been written and published in the Northern press.

The old contributors and correspondents of the Examiner are particularly requested to communicate with the undersigned.

All letters and communications of every character should be addressed to

Also, immediately, twenty active and enterprising men to travel and canvass for the paper—a fine chance for men out of employment. H. R. P.

PROSPECTUS.

THE publication of the NORTH CAROLINA PRESBYTERIAN will be resumed in Fayetteville, on Wednesday 2d January next.

Confidently relying upon the hearty support which we have heretofore received, we shall endeavor to render the paper more attractive, both in appearance and matter, than it has ever been, sparing neither pains nor expense, in the accomplishment of this purpose.

With the passing away of old things, a new spirit of activity, energy and enterprise has been infused into every department of secular thought and business. Why should not the CHURCH, also, partake of this progressive advancement? Why should she, of all the agencies, brought to bear with such tremendous force upon the civilization of the present time, be inefficient, laggard and almost hopeless, in the working out of her own destiny?

To arouse the CHURCH to the importance and necessity of WORK: of unceasing, restless, tireless energy in the service of her Master and Head; this shall be our first and chiefest aim. In this we need assistance. We are not alone, sufficient for these things. Our brethren must help us in every way; contributions from their own stores of thought and study; by zealous co-operation in a common cause for the benefit of all; by extending our circulation throughout all our borders, and thus giving us both the means and the opportunity of performing well the work to which we have consecrated all that we have, and all that we hope for on the earth.

THE FARMER,

A MONTHLY JOURNAL,

DEVOTED TO AGRICULTURE, HORTICULTURE, THE AUXILIARY MECHANIC ARTS, AND TO HOUSEHOLD ECONOMY.

To be Published at Richmond, Va.

The undersigned propose to publish in this city—commencing in January, 1866—a monthly Journal to be styled "THE FARMER," whose pages shall be devoted to Agriculture, Horticulture, the auxiliary Mechanic Arts and to Household Economy. A Journal which shall faithfully and successfully represent these cardinal interests by the dissemination of practical information & thorough, sound instruction, will supply a desideratum which is widely and deeply felt in the present exigency of our affairs, and ought, therefore, (we should think) readily to commend itself to popular acceptation, and command, in return, a remunerating patronage. "Faithfully" and "successfully" to support these interests, requires a Journal of the highest order of its kind. It is to nothing short of this high standard of public usefulness that "The Farmer" aspires, and to reach and maintain it, will be an object of unremitting effort and unsparing liberality of expenditure. It seeks recognition as a worthy organ of these cardinal branches of national industry, of which it assumes the special advocacy, and hopes to meet the requirements of the position satisfactorily to those whose interests are more immediately involved.

We are fallen upon times of peculiar and unexampled difficulty. The sudden and violent overthrow of African slavery, without premonition of its near approach, or preparation for the event, interwoven, as it was, with the very texture of our social constitution, has rendered all past experience with respect to the economy and regulation of labor nugatory, razed to its foundation the entire system of Southern agriculture, and necessitated its re-construction and re-organization in accordance with the recent changes in our circumstances and relations. Suddenly launched upon a tempestuous sea of danger and perplexity without the polar star of experience to guide us, we must, as best we can, improvise the measures which appear at the moment the best adapted to the purposes of present security, and as calmly as we may, await the slow progress of tentative effort and empirical practice for the development of facts and the matured fruits of experience and observation from the careful comparison and generalization of all which, sound principles may be deduced for our future guidance and direction. Then will a new creation of order, harmony and beauty spring out of the chaotic disorder and confusion which now prevail. Then will the desolation and ruin which mar the face of the country be repaired. And not till then shall wholesome and stable rules and regulations control the entire system of husbandry, with its adjuncts and subsidiaries, and give force and efficiency to the administrative measures necessary for the conduction of all its operations to the most satisfactory and profitable results.

To facilitate and promote these important considerations, a good agricultural journal is an obvious necessity. A medium of communication, for the interchange among farmers of views and opinions entertained by them respectively on subjects appertaining to their common calling, is indispensable, and they especially need a vehicle of intelligence for the transmission of the earliest notice of improvement in any department of husbandry, that, by a wide diffusion of such notice, the improvements may be adopted in practice and thus prove a general benefit to the farming fraternity.

Now, to sum up in a word: It is to meet this obvious and pressing necessity that the proprietors propose to publish the above described paper, and in behal of the undertaking they respectfully solicit the patronage of the public.

The best talent, both practical and theoretical which the country affords, will be commanded in aid of this enterprise, and no expense will be spared in the effort to make the Journal complete in all respects.

It will be printed on good paper and with clear type, and will comprise thirty two pages of reading matter. An advertising sheet of capacity sufficient to accommodate the advertising patronage of the Journal will be added.

Papers disposed to exchange with The Farmer will send their papers at once.

FOR SALE.

I OFFER for sale a small Tract of Land situated on the N. C R. R, 2½ miles South of Salisbury. This Tract contains about 300 acres, more or less, 60 of which has been recently cleared and is fresh, and new, and exceedingly fertile—a part of the 60 acres is high meadow land, and constitutes about half of the whole arable land now cleared. The meadow may be used for cereal or grass purposes, and is equally valuable for both. The ballance of the land is well timbered with virgin growth and convenient to a good market. There is also a "Gold Mine" of tested value on the same Tract, to which I propose to attach 30 acres or more of wooded land, which I propose to sell separately. I shall remain in Salisbury for two weeks, where I shall be happy to treat with any person wishing to purchase, after which time I shall intrust the sale of the above to the care of Col. B. Craige my accounted agent. The purchaser can have the benefit of supplying himself with 60 bbls of corn and all of the farming implements &c. necessary to conduct the farm.

The Watchman.

THE subscriber proposes to commence in the city of New York, at an early date, the publication of a weekly Journal, to take the highest practicable position on its line of Literature. Each number will contain eight large pages, with six columns to each page, printed on excellent paper in a superior style of photography, and so folded that it may be bound.

It will discuss all the current topics of Religion, Sociology, Science, Art, Politics, Commerce, Finance and Agriculture, liberally, carefully, thoroughly, and from a broad platform far above all partizanship. While the entire control of the work will be in the hands of the Editor, he hopes to have a circulation which will enable him to secure in its several departments the best aid which America and Europe can afford.

Faithful to his own Denomination, he trusts that he is so well known in all the Churches for liberality, that any publication of his may unhesitatingly be sent into the families of any Christian community. It may be the mission of this Journal to make all Christians see one another in a lovelier light. The subscriber has an earnest desire, and will make a hearty effort, to produce such a publication that where a family can take only one paper, this will more nearly supply all its wants than any other. A Home Gazette, a Repertory of all the best current Literature, a Summary of all important Intelligence in every department of Human Efforts, a Journal of Progress, an Advocate of Truth in all things, a Friend, a Guide, a Blessing—this is what "The Watchman" is intended to become.

The Editor has never been a partisan, and expects the discussion of politics in his journal to have to do mainly with its higher aspects and questions. The only desirable and permanent Union of States or of churches is a union upon the basis of an affectionate reception of a fundamental, political, or moral and religious truths with a hearty hatred of all certain error, and a generous absence of all fanaticism and strife in regard to what is not essential to political common weal or spiritual salvation. Into this happy unity the "Watchman" will labor to bring all within the reach of its influence.

This journal will afford a common meeting ground for Southern men of all views and thus keep our people in one portion of the South informed of the sentiments and views of those in other parts. It will present to other sections of the U. States a clear view of the animus of our people. It will thus secure the South justice and support without promoting sectionalism.

Many reasons unnecessary to state have led many influential persons to the belief that the interests of the South and of the whole country will be greatly promoted by issuing the publication from New York.

The price is put at $2 for the first six months, or $1 for the first three months. No subscription received for less than three, or more than six months. These terms allow one to subscribe for several copies for a short time, for general distribution. The first person who responded to a circular issued just before this prospectus, subscribed for 20 copies to distribute North and South. Write plainly the name, the post office, and number of copies and the length of time, and address.
